

Pedestrian Safety Course

Alameda County Safe Routes to Schools program offers a fun and exciting pedestrian safety education course free of charge to schools in the Alameda County SR2S program. The course takes students through a miniature city that provides them with interactive, hands-on lessons allowing them to experience traffic situations as pedestrians in a safe learning environment. By using a realistic traffic environment set up on the playground at your school, the ability of students to recognize and avoid traffic hazards is improved. This course is well-suited for structured groups of 25-35 students in K-5th grade during the school day, after-school, or during a weekend school event.

Skills Taught:

- * Safe Walking Behavior
- * Understanding traffic signs and signals
- * Recognition and avoidance of common pedestrian collisions
- * Interactive lesson on how walking is a fun and healthy way to commute to and from school
